

Feast of the Annunciation
 April 9

EVERY YEAR this feast recalls anew Mary's reply to God's angelic messenger: "Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it done and to me you according to thy word." Every work of the Creator is called to perfection, and perfection consists in obedience. The heavens and the earth inevitably announce the glory of God, but to human beings alone God granted a free will to serve Him. At the Annunciation, the obedience of Mary brought Christ down on earth to save fallen humanity. We, too, are called upon to cooperate with the Creator. The glory of God awaits our human word of obedient consent.
